

TRIBUTE

This year marks the 50th reunion for The University of Pennsylvania Class of 1959. Members of this class include some of the best and brightest doctors, lawyers, politicians, entrepreneurs, philanthropists and artists.

They have given back to their communities in countless ways --- both in their respective professions and in the gift of their time and wisdom.

Buildings named after classmates Huntsman and Steinberg have changed the landscape of Penn while providing valuable resources for current and future students.

While many members of the Class of 1959 have remained residents of our great city and contributed to Philadelphia's economic health, others have brought their knowledge to different corners of the world. Regardless of their life's journey, these classmates continue to show a lasting commitment to Penn by returning to campus to celebrate their 50th reunion.

I, Michael A. Nutter, Mayor of the City of Philadelphia, do hereby recognize with this Tribute on the occasion of their 50th reunion and acknowledge their noteworthy contributions.
