Dear Penn Alumni and Friends:

For more than a millennium, pilgrims have walked the Camino de Santiago, the “Way of Saint James,” to the shrine of the Apostle at Santiago de Compostela in northwestern Spain. To this very day the pilgrims’ motives have been as varied as their personalities: religious devotion, wanderlust, flight from the law, the spirit of adventure, cultural tourism.

Join Thomas Max Safley, Professor of Early Modern European History, from June 3 to 15, 2016, on a series of selective hikes along this most famous of Europe’s walking trails. Highlights on the journey include lunch at Bodegas Baigorri, where Rioja Alavesa is produced; a visit to the Gothic abbey of La Cartuja de Miraflores; and hear a Gregorian chant performed by the world-famous monks of Santo Domingo de Silos.

En route to Santiago de Compostela, Penn pilgrims will savor local cuisine, sample regional vintages, and stay in deluxe hotels. Most days will offer the opportunity to walk a section of the legendary Camino.

We consider this program to be an “active” program as it requires engaged participants to stand and walk for long periods over dirt roads, inclines, gravel paths, and sand. Eight days of the program will include extended walking segments. The average distance covered is 3.5 miles per day, with one day’s mileage being just under 5.5 miles. Penn Alumni Travel suggests that participants consult their physicians and undertake a pre-trip training regimen if they are not already accustomed to daily extended walking.

This educational adventure is sure to be popular and group size is limited to preserve the intimate nature of the program. Make your reservations today to ensure you don’t miss this memorable trip.

With warm regards from Penn,

Thomas Max Safley is Professor of Early Modern European History. He received his Ph.D. in 1980 from the University of Wisconsin. A specialist in the economic and social history of early modern Europe, he has published extensively on the history of marriage and the family, of poverty and charity, and of labor and business. His current research involves European merchants, many of whom had extensive commercial and cultural contacts with the Ottoman Empire, which necessitated travel to and from its territories. Professor Safley regularly teaches the introductory survey of European history and advanced lecture courses on the Reformation, the Baroque, pre-industrial economic history, and the early modern period.

Changes in Itinerary & Costs

The itinerary is subject to change at the discretion of PAT and AAA. All prices quoted are based on prevailing fuel prices, airfares and currency exchange rates in effect at time of brochure printing and are subject to change without notice. Deviations from the scheduled itinerary are not permitted.

Responsibility Clause

The participation of PAT is limited to educational sponsorship of the program described in this brochure (The Program). AAA acts only as an agent for the participant with respect to transportation, accommodations and all other services, relating to The Program. AAA, PAT and/or their agents assume no responsibility or liability for any act, error or omission, or for any injury, loss, accident, delay or irregularity that may be occasioned by reason of any defect in any aircraft, ship, train, bus or other carrier, or through neglect or default of any subcontractor or other third party, which may be used wholly or in part in the performance of their duty to the participants of The Program. The passage ticket issued by the carrier is the sole contract between the participant and the carrier. Nor will AAA or PAT and/or their agents be responsible for loss, injury, damages or expenses to persons or property, due to illness, weather, strikes, local laws, hostilities, wars, terrorist acts, acts of nature or other such causes in connection with The Program or anything beyond their reasonable control. AAA is not responsible for transportation or other program delays and changes, nor additional expenses or loss of time that may be incurred. In the event it becomes necessary or advisable for the comfort or well-being of the participants, or for any reason whatsoever, to alter the itinerary at any time, without notice to the participants, such alterations will be made without penalty to AAA or PAT. Additional expenses, if any, shall be borne by the participants. Baggage and personal effects are the sole responsibility of the participant at all times. AAA and PAT reserve the right to accept or decline any person as a participant at any time, or to require any participant to withdraw from The Program at their own expense when such an action is determined by AAA or PAT to be in the best interest of the participant’s health and safety, or the general welfare of the other participants.

Cancellation Policy

AAA must strictly adhere to its cancellation policy to offset costs incurred prior to the commencement of The Program, which may include but are not limited to: advance payments to land operators; communication expenses; development and the loss of time that might have permitted resale of reserved space. All cancellations must be made in writing to the offices of AAA and are subject to a $500 non-refundable administrative fee. All refunds are limited to amounts actually received by AAA and are the sole responsibility of AAA; PAT shall have no liability for refunds. At the time AAA receives written notification of cancellation, the following cancellation charges will apply: cancellations received between 120 and 91 days prior to departure, 25 percent of the program cost per person; those received between 90 and 61 days before departure, 50 percent of the program cost per person; no refunds will be given for cancellations received within 60 days of departure. No refunds are given for cancellation on or after the day of departure, or for unused portions of the tour, for any reason. Air cancellation charges, if any, will be assessed in accordance with airline regulations. All group fare tickets must be issued no less than 30 days prior to departure. NOTE: Neither AAA nor PAT shall be liable for any airline cancellation penalties incurred by the purchase of a non-refundable ticket. In the case of a cancellation due to shortage of participants, AAA will attempt to notify all participants at least 45 days prior to departure. However, AAA reserves the right to cancel The Program prior to departure for any reason and, in such a case, reimbursement of refundable costs of the trip by AAA shall constitute full settlement with the participant. In the unlikely event that a dispute arises between a participant and AAA or PAT, the following conditions will apply: (a) the dispute will be settled by binding arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association in New York, NY; (b) the dispute will be governed by New York Law; (c) the maximum amount of recovery to which a participant shall be entitled under any and all circumstances will be the sum of all moneys actually received from the participant by AAA. The participant agrees that this is a fair and reasonable limitation on the damages, of any sort whatsoever, that a participant may suffer. Upon payment of the deposit to AAA, the participant agrees to be bound by the above terms and conditions.
